

Feasting With Panthers: For the Shots Heard Around The World: Lots of Targets

LONDON — (NEA) — "The seven shots that were heard around the world" is the way that one London newspaper describes the shooting fray outside the Mayfair apartment of Christine Keeler, 21-year-old party girl.

Those shots were fired by a jealous lover, Johnny Edgecombe, 30, a Jamaican with a criminal record as a drug peddler and a procurer.

Edgecombe pumped five bullets into the door lock. Then he pointed his pistol upwards, and two bullets plowed into the brickwork around the window where Christine's head had been a moment earlier.

"I love that gal," Edgecombe sobbed to the police who arrested him. "I was sick in the stomach over her."

All of this happened last December, but in the ensuing months Christine's affairs with other men have come to light, touching off Britain's biggest "panther feast," as it is called.

Among those whose names have been dragged into the scandal as having indiscreetly "feasted with panthers" are:

John Profumo, 48, who resigned as Secretary of State for War after admitting that he had been Christine's lover.

Commander Eugene Ivanov, 37, Soviet naval attaché, who shared Christine's favors.

Dr. Stephen Ward, 50, osteopath and portrait artist of the Royal Family, who shared with Christine the apartment where the shooting took place.

Viscount Astor, 55, good friend of Dr. Ward and of Christine. Christine says that Lord Astor paid the rent of a flat which she occupied in 1961. And party girl Marilyn (Mandy) Rice - Davies told a court that she was intimate with Astor.

Douglas Fairbanks Jr. film producer and friend of the Royal Family. Fairbanks gave Christine a screen test as a favor to his friend, Dr. Ward.

Second only to Profumo's resignation has been the shock occasioned by Lord Astor's connection with this scandal.

In Britain the Astors are considered to be pillars of respectability. Viscount Astor, who married a top fashion model, has been host to international celebrities at his fabulous Cliveden estate.

His mother is Virginia-born Lady Nancy Astor, first woman Member of Parliament, and a famous hostess in her day. His uncle is Baron Astor of Hever, owner of The Times of London.

The 1963 hi-jinks on Lord Astor's Cliveden estate differ vastly from the parties given there in the 1930s. Musical chairs served as an ice-breaker in those days.

In the 1960s a polyglot crowd of party girls and playboys gathered at the edge of the Cliveden swimming pool. Of these none was more gay than Eugene Ivanov.

It was while swimming in the nude at Cliveden one hot night in July 1961, that Christine Keeler met John Profumo, Secretary of State for War in Her Majesty's government.

Clutching a towel around herself with one hand, Christine extended her other to Profumo.

Christine and Profumo met several times at the flat of her "very good friend" Dr. Stephen Ward, the society osteopath. Profumo even gave her money — "not for myself, but for Mum."

After Profumo broke away from her she continued her merry way, sowing destruction as she went, throwing the wreckage of men's careers.

Sometimes when she received guests she wore nothing but tight blue jeans. Once she gave a party and had everyone sit fully clothed in her bath drinking champagne.

She also got mixed up in various escapades. Once she "borrowed a boyfriend's car and drove to the south of France. Another time she flew to New York on impulse, then wired Dr. Ward for money to come home. A London admirer was found who obligingly put up $1000 for the return trip.

Christine's good friend, Mandy Rice-Davies, 18, was a baby-faced blonde who likewise made good in the big city. In just three years Mandy had managed to wangle from rich admirers a Jaguar and "enough jewelry and mink to keep me over the next year."

Today, Dr. Stephen Ward faces charges of living on the immoral earnings of both Christine and Mandy, and when the stands trial, it is expected that more famous people will be dragged in.

It all began with those "seven shots heard around the world" last December, but no one knows where it will end.

End series.

State Police Called Into Charleston

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Gov. Donald Russell ordered state troopers into racially torn Charleston today and placed National Guard troops on an alert basis in case they are needed to put down further violence.

Six Charleston policemen and a fireman were slightly injured Tuesday night in the first outbreak of violence in the month-long series of anti-segregation demonstrations here.

"Law and order will be maintained in South Carolina," Russell said.

He declined to say how many state troopers had been detailed to Charleston or what National Guard units had been alerted.

Police dispersed 750 Negroes early today in an eruption of violence at Charleston.

A total of 150 Negroes were arrested Tuesday.

Early today, Negroes gathered in front of a Negro Methodist church. Police broke up the crowd because they feared it might march on police headquarters four blocks away.

Ninety-five Negroes were arrested in Tuesday night's demonstration.

Earlier, fire trucks were called to break up the crowd of 500 Negroes in front of the News and Courier.

The crowd began to disperse at the sight of the trucks, and fire hoses were not used.

Observers said the demonstrations began peacefully with the Negroes chanting "freedom" anthems.

Police began to make arrests and the mood of the crowd changed. A Negro hurled a brick at a group of officers, striking Lt. Tallie Tiffman.

Tension increased sharply after the incident. Police began to make more arrests in the milling crowd and four other officers were felled by bricks or stones. A fireman was hit by a brick as the crowd began to disperse.

GOPs Want Goldwater, Rockefeller

Sixty-five members of the Hempstead and Nevada County Republican Clubs met in Oakhaven last night at the home of State Committeeman Haskell Jones.

After enjoying a family picnic the business session voted to endorse Barry Goldwater for president and Winthrop Rockefeller for governor.

They voted to open and maintain a downtown headquarters for the purpose of getting signatures on petitions for Goldwater and establish a file on possible Rockefeller support in the Hope area.

The headquarters will be open August 17 and operate until August 31.

Spa Lunch Counters Integrate

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Theaters, restaurants and lunch counters in downtown Hot Springs desegregated this week and the few Negroes who patronized them attracted little attention.

The desegregation came after 12 weeks of negotiations between the Hot Springs branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and civic leaders.

Most downtown cafes, cafeterias, restaurants and lunch counters were admitting Negroes. They also were admitted to white sections of theaters. No incidents were reported.

Garland County's population is about 14 per cent Negro. Hot Springs is the third Arkansas city to desegregate public facilities after negotiations. Little Rock was first and Pine Bluff was second.

Hot Springs news media agreed to wait until the negotiations were over to report the outcome.

Officials of the chamber of commerce aided in the negotiations. The NAACP has demanded integration of Hot Springs schools this September. The school board has not announced its plans.

Rail Report Prepared for Kennedy

By JOHN KOENIG JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz convened President Kennedy's special fact-finding panel today to prepare the preliminary draft of a report to the President on the railroad-union showdown over jobs.

The six-member panel, which has been consulting with both sides in the four-year-old railroad work rules dispute since last week, promptly began its writing chore.

Meanwhile, there were new signals indicating that only Congress will be able to avert a nationwide rail strike.

The draft, expected to be completed by this evening, will be shown to carrier and union representatives for comment and criticism before it is put in final form and sent to the White House Friday.

Cattlemen Reward

MCGEEHEE, Ark. (AP) — The Southeast Arkansas Cattlemen's Association announced Tuesday it had given a $100 reward to State Trooper Gene Mabry of Dermott for his part in the arrest of two men convicted of illegally slaughtering a calf.

Missing Grain Is Valued at $32 Million

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republicans are pressing for a congressional investigation into reports that 24 million bushels of U.S. grain vanished somewhere on the way to Austria.

The $32 million worth of corn, barley and sorghum "could have gone behind the Iron Curtain" in violation of U.S. barter agreements, said Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., Tuesday in demanding a Senate investigation.

Or he said, the grain "may have been diverted and sold in Western Germany for dollars," which would also be a violation.

Barter deals are restricted to non-Communist countries that would not otherwise pay dollars for U.S. farm products.

Lester P. Condon, Agriculture Department inspector general, said evidence uncovered so far does not indicate the grain went behind the Iron Curtain but that some of it might have wound up in West Germany where it could hurt cash markets for U.S. grain.

Condon said the United States suffered no loss on the shipments intended for Austria because it received the agreed upon minerals in the barter exchange.

Williams said seven importers have been arrested in Austria and that he does not see how the grain could have disappeared without some collusion with someone in this country, although no Americans have been implicated.

Williams said the Justice Department should join the investigation.

"This is really big stuff," said Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois in backing Williams' request to create a special Senate committee and give it $100,000 to look into the case.

Dirksen said the grain was loaded on ships in this country but apparently never got to Austria.

Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, said "the silence has been deafening" since he asked Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman last month about the disappearance and what was being done to prevent such cases from recurring.

Condon said the department is seeking to prevent any possible repetition by requiring American exporters to submit papers showing where bartered goods are unloaded abroad.

The threat of increased racial strife in many parts of the nation could disrupt much business planning. The problem could last long after its day in Congress.

Tax legislation is at the critical stage in Congress. How it may finally turn out and what it will do to business is a major uncertainty just now.

A tax cut could spur business activity. Or, some say, it could merely lay the foundation for future inflation by increasing the federal deficit.

At the moment, the financial markets are sweating out an expected rise in short-term interest rates. The Federal Reserve board may raise the discount rate soon, or it may hold off.

If this charge to member banks for what they borrow—now 3 per cent—should rise, other short term interest costs would likely rise.

The question then would be whether this would send long-term borrowing costs up, too, and if so, how soon.

Progress Made in Nuclear Test Ban Talks

By JOHN M. NIGHTOWER

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union, Britain and the United States announced today they had "made progress in drafting some of the provisions" for a treaty banning nuclear tests in the atmosphere, outer space and under water.

The communique, issued after three days of negotiations here, was the first official word that the treaty would exclude underground tests and that the formal drafting stage had been reached.

It tended to confirm diplomatic reports that things were going smoothly.

The communique also said: "Views were exchanged on other matters of mutual interest."

Possibly these included a non-aggression pact between East and West.

MOSCOW (AP)—All indications still pointed today to the possibility that the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union will agree on a partial nuclear test ban in their Moscow talks.

Secrecy still surrounded the daily meetings of U.S. Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman and Lord Hailsham of Britain with top Soviet officials. When sharp disagreement develops, secrecy usually breaks down.

A three-power announcement Tuesday night said the second conference session was conducted "in a friendly atmosphere." Once again all three delegations appeared in good humor as they left the conference.

Business Hit by Stalemate Psychology

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst NEW YORK (AP) — Stalemate psychology is plaguing both the stock market and business planners at midsummer. Too many problems are at the maybe-yes, maybe-no stage today for comfort.

In Moscow, maybe the Russians are ready for first steps that could in time lead to lightening the armament cost burden for taxpayers, and maybe they are not.

What that will or won't mean to many companies with defense contracts, present or prospective, Wall Street would like to know.

The rail labor strife may be settled by the President's study panel or by the Congress, and maybe it can't be without at least the calling of a strike.

And then maybe the rails would be seized and maybe they wouldn't. Shippers would like to know, and so would businessmen worrying about inventories. And so would the truck and barge lines.

Civil rights legislation may come to a climax soon or may be dragged out further. The uncertainty isn't good for business now.

Parenthood Reward Is When Your Child Quits Being Ashamed and Is Proud of You

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the rewards of parenthood is to have your children be ashamed of you—and, later, to be proud of you.

Can you remember being ashamed of your parents? I can—very clearly. Most people can if they go back to that crannied corner of childhood.

In my generation it was part of the wonderful nonsense of being young to entertain the idea that gypsies had stolen you as a baby and your present parents were not, in fact, your real parents.

As a boy I used to look at myself in the mirror and wonder who I really was until my senses reeled. But much as I wished to think of myself as the victim of a gypsy kidnapping, my common sense would not allow me to pursue the dream too far.

That face looking back at me was too utterly the son of my father. I was too honest to kid myself. But I hated to lose that dream that I had been stolen by gypsies from high grandeur and put by them into my mean estate.

So I clung to that dream and bore a grudge against my parents for being what they were—my parents.

What a titanic snobbery a child goes through before he grows up! What a wilderness of error he must wade before he reaches the far side of the forest!

My parents were people of little education but great wisdom. I know that now but didn't realize it then.

As I rode a delivery bicycle by night for the neighborhood drug store—bringing a magazine and a bottle of medicine to those in want—and studied in high school by day, I dreamed of marble halls I felt I really deserved.

It was only when I was in college that I began to shed the foolish shame of being my parents' child.

Sitting in the front porch swing one day, my mother said, "Harold, you know we're done the best we can by you," and I said, "Well I know other parents who have done more," and my mother fled in tears.

That was the only time I knowingly made her cry. I sat in that front porch swing a long time all alone, and began to grow up.

Another time in college I was involved as a passenger in a car accident. My father said nothing about the expense, but as he drove me home from the hospital we passed a cemetery, and he said, "There's a silent city—son. I'm glad you're not in it."

Then I grew up a great deal more, and was no longer ashamed of my parents. Now when I look in the morning mirror, I no longer shave myself alone. In middle age I shave my father. 26 years dead. It is his face I see in the mirror.

State Income Up, Spending Is Planned

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Tuesday that Arkansas finances were so bright he was ready to advance $4.5 million in surplus funds for state construction projects.

Faubus told members of a Little Rock Civic Club that $2.5 million would be given to the University of Arkansas and the seven state-supported colleges. The remainder would go to the Children's Colony at Conway, the Educational Television Commission, state parks and other state agencies, he said.

Faubus told club members Ar-

ORDINANCE NO. 793
An Ordinance establishing minimum Health and Housing Standards; providing for an enforcing official; creating a board of housing appeals; providing for the inspection of dwellings and premises; and for other purposes.

WHEREAS, the elimination of slums and blighted areas and the prevention of their future growth is a matter of concern to the people of the City of Hope, Arkansas; and

WHEREAS, in this City there are dwelling structures which are so dilapidated, unsafe, unhygienic, or unsanitary, as to constitute a menace to the health and safety of the people; and

WHEREAS, this City has the right and duty to adopt and enforce such health and sanitary regulations as are necessary in order to prevent the spread of disease.

BE IT THEREFORE ORDAINED BY THE CITY BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF HOPE, ARKANSAS:

Section 1. Adoption of Minimum Housing Code.

There is hereby adopted by the City Board of Directors of Hope, Arkansas, that certain health and housing standards known as the Southern Standard Building Code Part IV Housing being specifically the 1960-1961 edition, of which not less than three (3) copies have been and are now filed in the office of the Clerk of the City of Hope, Arkansas, and the same are hereby adopted and incorporated as fully as if set out at length herein, and from the date on which this ordinance shall take effect, the provisions thereof shall be controlling on all dwellings and premises within the corporate limits of Hope, Arkansas.

Section 2. Establishment of the Office of Housing Enforcing Official.

(a) The office of Housing Enforcing Official is hereby created.
(b) The Building Official shall be appointed by the Mayor subject to confirmation of the Board of Directors. His appointment shall continue during good behavior and satisfactory service. He shall not be removed from office except for cause after full opportunity has been given him to be heard on specific charges.

Section 3. Establishment of a Housing Board of Appeals.

(a) There is hereby created a Board of Housing Appeals which shall consist of five (5) members appointed by the Mayor subject to confirmation of the Board of Directors. One member shall be appointed to serve one (1) year, two members to serve two (2) years, and two members to serve three (3) years.

(b) This Board shall act by majority vote of the members present.

(c) Said Board shall have the power and be required to hold public hearings in deciding appeals where it is alleged there is an error in law or fact in any order or decision of the Housing Enforcing Official in the enforcement of this ordinance.

day, was understood to be keeping in close touch with the talks and was expected to take a personal role again soon. Western diplomats considered Khrushchev's interest to be evidence of Soviet readiness to agree on a test ban.

It was understood that Khrushchev, in outlining the Soviet position Monday did not raise any conditions unacceptable to the United States and Britain.

In the past, the Russians have specified conditions which could present serious difficulties for the Western powers. These include an unpooled moratorium on underground tests and a nonaggression pact between the North Atlantic alliance and the East European nations of the Warsaw Pact. Neither is acceptable to the West.

The negotiations now are believed to be concentrated on working out an accord prohibiting nuclear test explosions in the atmosphere, in outer space and under water.

Such an agreement can be monitored against violations by methods of detecting earth shocks, airborne radioactive materials and other evidences of nuclear blasts.

The Soviets and the Western powers are divided over the possibility of detecting underground explosions. Barring some change of position by Khrushchev to permit more than three international inspections in the Soviet Union annually, a ban on explosions underground appears out of the question at this time.

In Washington a close associate of President Kennedy said if agreement is reached on a test ban, Kennedy and Khrushchev might exchange pledges of nonaggression. These pledges, the source said, might include a statement from Khrushchev that he does not contemplate an ultimatum over Berlin and from Kennedy that the United States would refrain from military action to change borders in Europe, including those of East Germany.

Arkansas had the lowest ratio in the nation of government employees to total population and said this refuted accusations of critics that he was hiring an army of state employees to perpetuate himself in office.

The Department of Commerce figure Faubus cited showed 261 state and local employees per 10,000 population.

Wall Street, reporters were admitted to SEC headquarters at 8 a.m. to read the report then locked in until 1 p.m. when they were permitted to disclose its contents.

The report held that specialists' activities in the "Black Monday" market collapse of May 28, 1962, had no discernible effect in countering the costly downside.

It said a few specialists seemed to contribute to the pounding down of prices by their selling, but the report did not name them.

42 Jailed in New York Race Trouble

NEW YORK (AP)—Forty-two civil rights demonstrators, arrested when they blocked trucks from entering a hospital construction site in Brooklyn, have been released without bail pending hearings.

The demonstrators, including 14 Negro clergymen, were charged with disorderly conduct at the state-financed, downstate medical center construction site Monday. They were protesting alleged discrimination in employment of construction workers.

After the arrests, the 14 ministers and representatives of Negro organizations sent messages to President Kennedy, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City that "the Negro community is on the brink of violence."

They demanded that state and city-financed construction projects be halted Thursday unless at least 25 per cent of the jobs go to Negroes and Puerto Ricans.

A spokesman described the demand as an ultimatum. He did not say what would be done if it is not met, but said integration

Tax Take in State Is Up 14 Per Cent

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Tax collections in Arkansas were up 14 per cent, to $319,434,431 during the fiscal year 1962-63, the Internal Revenue Service reported Tuesday.

The collection for the previous year was $280,243,944. There has not been a decrease in the federal tax collection in Arkansas since 1954, when the amount dropped from $162,118,030 for the 1952-53 fiscal year to $159,039,000.

The 1963 figure compared to revenue of $157,252,659 twelve years ago.

Fred W. Johnson, district IRS director, said withholding and Social Security taxes, which the department lumps in its calculations, were up 15 per cent of $154,991,152.

Other features of the report: Corporation taxes were up six percent, from $35,310,343 to $37,405,960.

Estate taxes were down from $6,496,289 to $4,715,744.

Johnson attributed the overall increase in taxes to what he termed the healthy economic condition of the state.

Malvern Postoffice

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Post Office Department announced Tuesday it is advertising for bids on construction of a new post office building at Malvern. The building will contain 10,297 square feet of floor space. It will be built on a lease-rental basis.

"Full-throttle" acceleration tests like this help Shell scientists measure effects of harmful combustion deposits on power. Read below how Super Shell fights these deposits—to help give you power when you need it.

How TCP, one of Super Shell's 9 working ingredients, fights two kinds of engine trouble to give you power when you need it

If car engines could stay clean as new, they'd work fine without Super Shell's TCP.* But combustion deposits start building up the moment your car leaves the showroom—and can soon cut your power and mileage.

Nothing can be done to stop these deposits from forming. But fortunately, something can be done to fight some of the troubles they lead to. And Super Shell's TCP is the ingredient that does it.

How TCP fights pre-ignition

When certain types of combustion chamber deposits get hot enough, they glow—can beat spark plugs to the punch and ignite your fuel before it's supposed to be ignited.

The experts call this pre-ignition. A

For power when you need it, stop at this clean white Super Shell pump. Super Shell, with nine working ingredients, also helps you get good mileage and a smooth-running engine.

*Trademark for Shell's gasoline additive for ignition control. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U. S. Patent 2880212.

premature explosion punches the piston on its way up. Two forces meet head on. And your power falls off.

Usually, pre-ignition comes when your engine is working hardest—when you're trying to pass at turnpike speeds, for instance. And just when you need power most, it falls off.

Super Shell's TCP fights pre-ignition by actually altering the chemical nature of combustion deposits. It "fire-proofs" them so they no longer glow. And your chances of pre-ignition go way down.

How TCP fights spark plug misfire

Combustion deposits can also build up on spark plugs and cause spark plug misfire. When engine temperatures go up, these deposits tend to conduct electricity—can actually short-circuit your plugs and take them right out of the act.

Your spark plugs miss—they don't ignite the fuel. And instead of purring smoothly, your engine sputters and falters—loses power and wastes gasoline.

Once again, Super Shell's TCP works by changing the chemical nature of the deposits. It helps keep them from conducting electricity and short-circuiting your spark plugs. Result: Your spark plugs fire the way they should—to help you get power when you need it.

And that's how Super Shell's TCP works to make your car work better.

Super Shell has 9 working ingredients to make your car work better

But TCP is only one of Super Shell's 9 working ingredients. Here's a brief rundown on the other eight—and what they do to help Super Shell make your car work better.

Platformate and cat-cracked gasoline work for extra mileage and smooth power.

Anti-knock mix and Alkylate work to fight knock for a quiet engine.

Butane and Pentane mix work to give fast starts and smooth warm-ups.

Gum preventive and anti-icer (added in cold weather) work to keep carburetors clean inside and to help check icing stalls.

ALL FOR LOVE OF A HEEL

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I love a heel! He is an atheist, latent schizophrenic, took dope and may still do. Life with him was cyclonic; on his part, mad fits of violent rage, ripping out telephones, tearing down doors. On mine, paying off his gambling debts, making good his bad checks and borrowing money to meet current expenses.

Family and friend splintered me to leave him. Finally, after a nerve-shattering experience in which he and his pseudo-intellectual friends were arrested for unlawful picketing, I packed my few personal possessions and left, determined to find a more peaceful way of life.

I already had a good job so rented a small apartment and began thinking of myself for a change. Not wanting to remarry, I didn't bother to divorce. The man I date bore me stiff after the scintillating brilliance of my husband's thinking. Life without him has been dull. Strange as it may seem, I miss his violence—physical and mental; his unpredictable ways, even his brutal beatings. My whole being cries out for him.

In the face of importuning from family and friends I would gladly go back to him today — this very minute. But, alas, when I walked out of his life, he walked out of mine and his whereabouts are a mystery. Should I ask the police to help me find him or write him off forever? — Miserable

Dear Helen: If your husband is a latent (not so latent, if you ask me) schizophrenic, you are a blatant masochist! Why you want to go back inside the burning barn would make great grist for a psychiatrist's mill. Whole books have been written on the subject of the various manifestations of disguised self-punishment and self-destruction, their causes and cures. One book that comes to mind is aptly titled, "Man Against Himself," by the famous psychiatrist, Karl Menninger. I highly recommend it.

Somewhat, your words, "the scintillating brilliance of my husband's thinking," do not give with the facts you give. It strikes me that there was very little thinking involved in your husband's behavior when you were together, and you are not doing enough thinking now.

You are wrongly equating non-violence with dullness. It's entirely possible, you know, to find a man, financially responsible, kind and considerate, who won't bore you. This combination just hasn't crossed your path as yet. While waiting for him stop letting your memory gloss over the painful truth that your husband grossly

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ellen, Jr. of Odessa, Tex. is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ellen, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Hogue had as guest over the weekend Mr. and Mrs. James Hogue and family of Dallas.

Mrs. Rufus Poor of Chester, Ark. is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hogue and other relatives.

Mrs. Gerald Duke and daughters, Joe Duke, and Miss Doyle Betterton, all of South Gate, Calif., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harold Duke.

Ricky Wakefield, Alexandria, La., is spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Hinton Davis and Mrs. H. E. Thornton. They will be joined over the weekend by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wakefield

Dear Helen: I am a girl presently working as a car hop, who will be a sophomore when high school starts next fall. The boy I like is a junior and can't see me as a girl friend. Hoping to win his interest, I invited him over for a coke at the place where I work. He had the measles. Should I drop him a line giving him a raincheck, or let Nature do her job? — Waiting and Hoping

Dear Helen: Waiting and Hoping: Keep right on hoping and hoping — but not in the direction of the high school junior. By all means, "let Nature do her job," whatever you mean by that. Remember, Nature meant man to be the pursuer and woman the pursued. A written invitation isn't necessary to drive into a "drive-in."

Dear Helen: I am a married woman with no children and seriously contemplate adopting one. Friends say it should be an infant so I can train it from the start. Others tell me that a child must be at least a year old before placed for adoption. I've heard of people who adopted babies as young as two months. Who is right? I'd like to find a very young baby — say not more than a few days old. Would that be possible? — Worried "Mother"

Dear "Mother": Adopting a baby is governed by the law of supply and demand. For the first time in 30 years there are more children to be adopted than there are couples to adopt them. Unless your town is exceptional, you should be able to adopt a baby at almost any age. I have heard of infants only a few days old being adopted. Consult your local adoption agencies.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Found Guilty Manslaughter

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Spec. 4 Phillip Clayton Dimick Jr., 20, of Jefferson, Ore., was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter Tuesday in the fatal stabbing of Denver Hubbard 23, of Van Buren, last May 31.

The jury reduced the charge from first degree murder, but did not recommend a penalty. Circuit Judge Paul Wolfe set sentencing for 11 a.m. Thursday.

The maximum penalty is three years in prison, a $100 to $1,000 fine, or both.

Several witnesses testified that

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Russell, Jr. and Charles were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harrell. The son has remained for a longer visit with his grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. John McGee and three daughters returned Sunday to their home in Independence, Mo., after a 10-day visit with Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Benson.

State Beauty Pageant to Start Tonight

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Preliminary judging of the 43 beauties vying for the 1964 "Miss Arkansas" crown now held by Edey Addington begins tonight.

The contestants were welcomed to the city "Miss America" style Monday, and spent Tuesday rehearsing for a television show that night that might have been cancelled because of a flash flood.

The outdoor pageant site was not damaged by the flood, though and the show was televised on schedule.

Elimination of all but 10 of the beauties begins tonight as they are judged on the basis of beauty and talent. The contestants will appear before the judges in bathing suit, evening gown and for their talent performances.

The 10 finalists will be announced at the start of the final show Saturday night.

The field of contestants this year is strong on talent, with many of the girls having had extensive specialized training.

The talent ranges from dancing and ballet to drama and piano solos. One of the contestants is studying to do medical research work.

The pageant has been held at the Oaklawn Park race track since 1958, but this year may be the last time it is staged out of doors.

A $1.5 million civic center and municipal auditorium is being built in the city and may be completed in time for the 1964 event.

Judges of the contest this year are Mrs. Harriet Prouty of Des Moines, Iowa; Mrs. Lou Fleeman of Lake Providence, La.; Barry Rudd of Wascam, Tex.; Bernice Wayne of Atlantic City, N.J. and Jerry Carter of Springfield, Mo.

Miss Addington will crown her successor.

The reigning Miss Connecticut and Miss Wisconsin will also be on stage.

Rights Fight Extended to Many Fronts

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—The congressional battle over civil rights blazed across many fronts today, from integration in sports stadiums to a proposed investigation of the leaders of racial demonstrations.

Meanwhile, the Pentagon, faced with protests it was encouraging military personnel to take part in demonstrations, issued new orders Tuesday night restricting such activities.

In a memorandum to all the armed services, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara declared:

"It is high inappropriate and unnecessary for military personnel, with their special obligations of citizenship, to participate in such activities.

"I urge every man and woman in uniform to conduct himself accordingly."

McNamara did not specifically forbid members of the armed forces from demonstration in civilian clothes while off duty. But he did say none may demonstrate when the activities constitute a breach of law and order, or when violence is reasonably likely to result.

As expected, most of the steam in the row over President Kennedy's civil rights proposals was coming from the Senate where the Judiciary and the Commerce committees are holding hearings.

Today the Commerce Committee asked Baseball Commissioner Ford C. Frick and the heads of the National and the American Football leagues, Pete Rozelle and Joe Foss, for their views on legislation to bar segregation in places of public accommodation.

The bill, a key section of the civil rights program, would apply to sports arenas as well as stores, restaurants, hotels and the like.

Gov. Ross R. Barnett of Mississippi, George C. Wallace of Alabama and Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett of Arkansas, all vehement opponents of the bill, urged the committee to investigate what they pictured as Communist influences bent on a divide and conquer strategy.

They singled out Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, and said the committee should check on his associates. They did not, however, say they suspected King of being a Communist.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., protested what he termed "guilt by association" and said that "even McCarthyism in the darkest days of that dark episode first heard such charges in executive session."

He said that "in all fairness," King should be called as witness."

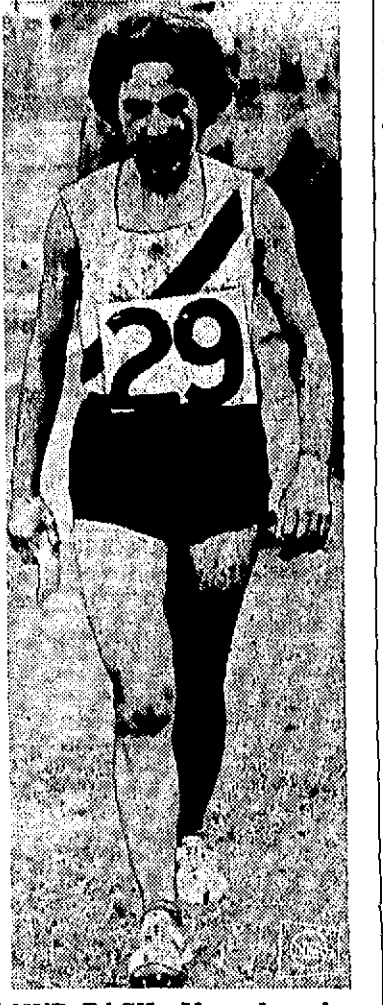

Hubbard hit Dimick in the face before the stabbing.

Warren Highfill of Van Buren, Hubbard's companion the night of the slaying, said Dimick and Hubbard argued over a statue of a woman which Dimick owned.

Japanese house architecture has long been governed by principles only recently adopted by the west: a light, adjustable, unpretentious, virtually unadorned structure planned on a precise mathematical concept. The standard module for Japanese architecture is the 6 ft. by 3 ft. grass floor mat, each room being a multiple of this size.

Solution Sought at Cambridge

By JOHN WOODFIELD

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP) — A committee of whites and Negroes sought today to progress toward a solution of this city's racial problems before a new crisis develops.

Negro integrationist leaders served notice that unless some success was reported by the committee by mid-afternoon, demonstrations would be resumed.

The Negroes called off a demonstration Tuesday in view of the appointment of a human relations committee composed of seven whites and four Negroes.

After an organization meeting night, the committee issued a statement saying it had decided to concentrate on the issue of public accommodations. Negroes have demanded admittance to restaurants, lodging places and other spots hitherto barred to them.

Then, the committee said, it would turn its attention to school integration and better job and housing opportunities for Negroes. The committee ruled that each member must keep silent.

Stanley Branche, field secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said: "If nothing comes out of the committee by 3 p.m. Wednesday, then we start demonstrations again."

National Guardsmen and state police combed an area of the city Tuesday night after Mrs. George Horner, wife of a National Guard lieutenant colonel, reported that as she was walking in her front yard, she heard a shot and something grazed a finger of her left hand.

The Horners live near the Negro area. Col. J. Maurice Tawes, in command of Guard troops, said a projectile of some kind knocked a chip off a cinder block and that the chip grazed Mrs. Horner.

Drastic militia law rules imposed by the National Guard were relaxed but white businessmen were still dissatisfied.

Appearing before an angry, heckling meeting of 300 businessmen Col. Tawes announced that business establishments could stay open until 9 p.m. instead of 7, and people could travel the streets until 10 p.m. instead of 9.

Other curbs which have bitten into the city's economy remained in effect. These included a ban on sale of alcoholic drink.

The Guard decreed the restrictions after six white persons were wounded in a night of terror last week.

India contains 1,250,995 square miles.

Thought for The Day

Mercy among the virtues is like the moon among stars, not so sparkling and vivid as many, but dispensing a calm radiance that hallows the whole. It is the bow that rests upon the bosom of the cloud when the storm is past. It is the light that hovers above the judgement seat. E. H. Chapin.

Confused Over Russia, China Break

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The deepening break between the Russians and Red Chinese has left the West as confused about the future as it was when Nikita Khrushchev suddenly repudiated Stalin in 1956.

Even Secretary of State John Foster Dulles admitted at the time:

"It is too early to judge its full meaning."

The American Communist party said in an editorial in the Daily Worker:

"The shattering revelations made by Khrushchev show what a gigantic transformation is taking place in the Soviet Union."

What was shattered was the myth of the Russian leadership's infallibility. Around the world Communist parties suffered convulsions. Some were heretical enough to criticize the Kremlin.

Russia had to crush Hungary's anti-Red revolt. The Soviet hold on the satellites was weakened, if only a little. But its hold on the Red Chinese was weakened enormously for a reason which may have been overlooked then but isn't now.

While Khrushchev attacked the memory of Stalin at the 20th Party Congress on Feb. 24, 1956, 10 days before that he made suggestions which today are presented as the main cause of the Russian-Chinese split.

He said international problems should be solved by negotiation, that war isn't necessary for communism to triumph, and that the West and East should sign a nuclear test ban agreement and even a non aggression pact.

The Chinese disagree on all counts. And these are the main points they throw at Khrushchev now in their accusation that he is undermining world communism.

But today in Moscow, Americans, Britons and Russians are discussing a test ban. The American and Britons are waiting to hear what Khrushchev says on a nonaggression pact. And there have been a number of international negotiations.

Once again around the world Communist parties, watching world communism split into two huge camps, are having some convulsions.

It seems plain that the Communist parties in the West will go along with Russia; the Asian parties will stick with Red China. Out of this division competition to win over the backward non-Communist countries everywhere is inevitable.

Out of the competition will come conflict of one kind or another between the two worlds of communism. This will take up much of the energy, attention and resources of the two camps. To this extent the West will benefit.

The split may even drive Russia into closer association and cooperation with the West.

But the blessing is not unmixed. The Russians are accusing the Chinese of promoting anti-white racialism. From this it can be assumed, if true, that the Chinese will appeal to all the non-white peoples to divide the world into big camps: white and non-white.

That's horrible enough, but the West must be prepared for another specter.

For a while the Chinese may stay behind their frontiers, leaving the rest of Asia pretty much alone because they are not militarily strong enough to challenge the West or risk a war.

That won't last. They'll develop nuclear weapons, perhaps within two years. It may take them some time longer to complete good delivery systems.

Therefore, since the Chinese assert war is necessary for Communist victory, the Western world, particularly the United States, must get adjusted to the reality that sooner or later the Red Chinese will move to take over all of Asia.

Then the West will have to decide whether it wishes to risk war to stop the Chinese. Right now the United States will not permit communism, outside of Cuba, to set up shop among its next-door neighbors in Latin America.

For this reason the United States can hardly feel indignant if the Chinese, as soon as they are able, try to drive all remaining Western influence out of Asia. The struggle then will not be over principle but over power, if the West wants to fight for Asia.

Such a struggle seemed inevitable.

TO KNOW A TIGER

By GEORGE B. SCANLAN

pic.

This was the hardest part of the beat for Reardon. It was the three blocks of warehouses and freight docks that, during the day, serviced the city's produce market. At night, on Reardon's duty tour, it was a black, long tunnel of a street with 86 short flights of steps. He had counted these one time as he mounted and descended them to perform his nightly duty checking all the dock and office doors.

It was tough for Reardon's 63 years and 30 pounds overweight to make those 86 flights. Mostly, though, it was the Tigers, not the steps, that made this the hardest part of the beat.

Miller Gives Orioles Life as a Reliever

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

Relief specialist Stu Miller, believed to have lost his mound magic a year ago, is up to his old tricks and breathing new life into the Baltimore Orioles' American League pennant aspirations.

The Butterfly Man, who earned his nickname because of the way he confounded National League batters with his tantalizing slow curves, was traded to Baltimore last winter by the San Francisco Giants who palmed him off as all washed up.

This error in judgment may have cost the Giants a second straight championship. Little Stu has never been better.

Now in his 11th year in the big leagues, the 34-year-old right-hander is still befuddling enemy batters and bailing out his teammates with spectacular rescue work.

Miller came through with another clutch relief performance Tuesday night helping Milt Pappas and the Orioles sew up a 5-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers. It was his ninth emergency in the last 14 days and his seventh save in that span, during which he was credited with one of the 10 Oriole victories.

The triumph boosted the Orioles to within one percentage point of fourth-place Minnesota and just a half game behind the second-place Boston Red Sox, who trail the front-running New York Yankees by six lengths.

In other American League games, Kansas City bombed Boston 11-0, Washington defeated Chicago 3-1 and Los Angeles ripped Cleveland 2-1. Rain washed out the Yankee-Twins contest in Minnesota, halting play while the league leaders were at bat in the second inning.

It was a busy day in the National League where the Chicago Cubs climbed to within 5½ games of front-running Los Angeles by beating Milwaukee 1-0 as the Dodgers were held to a split by Philadelphia. The Phils won the second game 10-2 after Sandy Koufax had won his 16th game of the season for the Dodgers with a 5-2 triumph in the opening game of the two-night doubleheader.

San Francisco and Pittsburgh also split a night twin bill. The teams swapped 3-2 decisions with the Giants' Willie McCovey hitting homers in each game, running his total to 23. St. Louis edged out Cincinnati 5-4 in 10 innings and the New York Mets eked out a 3-2 victory over the Houston Colts.

Baltimore, back in stride after losing 22 of 30 earlier in the campaign, slammed four home runs to thwart Detroit's Frank Lary in his comeback bid. Boog Powell, Jim Gentile, Brooks Robinson

No Respite in Maryland Race Trouble

By JOHN WOODFIELD

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP)—This militia-controlled town saw no prospect for a respite in its racial troubles today despite two peace moves:

1. National Guard leaders headed off a protest march by 500 angry Negroes Monday night by releasing 14 persons, including militant integrationist Gloria Richardson, who had been arrested for trying to picket a drugstore.

2. Mayor Calvin W. Mowbray and the City Council appointed a human relations committee to help tackle racial problems. The committee is composed of seven white persons and four Negroes nominated by the Cambridge Non-violent Action Committee.

Mrs. Richardson called for a new demonstration today.

Mrs. Richardson returned Monday from Annapolis, where Gov. J. Millard Tawes held day-long meetings with Negro and white leaders.

Soon she and Stanley Oraniche, a field secretary of the National Association to the Advancement of Colored People, appeared on Race Street, the main thoroughfare, and Bob Johnson hit the homers.

Miller relieved Pappas in the eighth out of a bases-loaded jam at the expense of only one run that cut Baltimore's lead to 3-2. He struck out Rocky Colavito and ended the inning by getting Billy Bruton on a slow roller. It was his 42nd relief appearance, most in both leagues, and his 15th save. He also has won three.

Moe Drabowsky pitched the shutout for the Athletics who bombed Boston pitching for 15 hits. The veteran right-hander permitted the Red Sox only four hits for his first victory of the season and first Kansas City shutout since May 17. Drabowsky helped his cause with a home run, and a two-run single when his teammates umped on loser Dave Morehead for five runs.

fare, with 12 other Negroes.

Col. J. Maurice Tawes of the Guard asked what was going on. "Since no one deems it necessary to resolve the situation, the only thing we can do is to demonstrate," said Branch.

Tawes called attention to the Guard's ban on demonstrations imposed after last week's rioting between Negroes and whites.

The Negroes promptly began picketing Collins' Drugstore, a segregated place. Guardsmen with bayonets swiftly bundled the demonstrators into two weapons carriers and took them to the National Guard Armory at Easton, 16 miles north, where they were held without charge.

Monday night, Negroes rallied at Bethel AME church, demanding release of the 14 and threatening a protest march.

"If we have to die in the streets, at least it can be said we died honorably," said Philip H. Savage, a field secretary of the NAACP.

The Guard set up searchlights to illuminate Pine Street, where Bethel church is located. Tear gas was made ready.

Then Col. Tawes entered the church and escorted two Negro leaders away. He told the two, Reginald Robinson and Fred Jackson — the 14 demonstrators would be freed forthwith.

By the time Robinson and Jackson returned, 500 Negroes had gathered outside, facing a force of Guardsmen.

Jackson hoisted Robinson, a diminutive man, on his shoulders and Robinson told the crowd: "Our people are being released, so we won't march tonight."

The Negroes dispersed and shortly thereafter the 14 were returned to Cambridge.

At Annapolis, Gov. Tawes met with officials of Cambridge, Dorchester County, the National Guard, state police and others.

After the meetings, he said: "It was the consensus that the problem cannot and will not be solved quickly. It is going to take more effort on the part of everyone."

Travelers Within Game of 1st Place

JACKSONVILLE Fla. (AP) — Jacksonville fell 3-0 and 2-0 to shutouts by Arkansas right-handers Dwight Siebler and Jack Hamilton Tuesday as the Travelers swept a three-game International League baseball series.

The victories put the Travelers one game behind Indianapolis for their place in the southern division of the league.

In other league play Atlanta blasted Richmond 9-1, Columbus nicked Syracuse 4-2, Rochester whipped Buffalo 6-2 and Toronto defeated Indianapolis 2-0.

Arkansas meets Columbus, at Columbus, tonight.

Danny Cater led off the top of the seventh with his seventh home run to give Siebler all the margin he needed in taking his sixth victory against no losses.

Lee Ella slammed his 12th homer of the year off relief pitcher Sonny Siebert.

Siebler gave up only two hits in the seven-inning opener. Hamilton allowed three in the nine-inning nightcap.

Koufax Wins 16th, McCovey Carries Giants

By JIM HACKLEMAN Associated Press Sports Writer

A brilliant left-handed pitcher sparking a pennant drive and a rangy slugger on a club in the throes of critical slump continue as the hottest items in the National League.

Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Willie McCovey of the San Francisco Giants, each starred again Tuesday night in doubleheader splits.

Koufax fired his ninth straight victory and 16th of the season at Philadelphia, going six perfect innings and finishing with a six-hitter in a 5-2 victory. The Phils rebounded against the first-place Dodgers in the second game, romping 10-2 with a 12-hit attack led by Johnny Callison.

McCovey belted a homer in each game at Pittsburgh, extending his hitting streak to 21 games and his homer total to 28, and won the opener 3-2 with a two-out homer in the ninth inning. Then Giants dropped the second game, 3-2, falling into fourth place with the seventh loss in their last nine games.

Chicago's runner-up Cubs edged to within 5½ lengths of the top, taking Milwaukee 1-0 on a four-pitcher shutout and Ken Hubbs' homer. St. Louis moved into sole possession of third, nipping Cincinnati 5-4 on a 10th inning squeeze bunt by Tim McCarver.

same score despite McCovey's 28th home run and run-scoring single which extended his hitting streak to 21 games.

PITCHING — Bobby Shantz, Cardinals, fanned eight of the batters he faced in a brilliant 3-2 inning relief stint and was credited with St. Louis' 5-4 victory over Cincinnati in 10 innings.

Time of day at the South Pole depends on where you stand because all time zones and date lines converge at the poles.

and Bobby Shantz's fine relief pitching. New York's last-place Mets clipped Houston 4-3 with a ninth-inning run in the other NL game.

In American League action — Kansas City routed Boston 11-0; Washington beat the Chicago White Sox 3-1; Baltimore knocked off Detroit 5-2; and the Los Angeles Angels tripped Cleveland 2-1. New York's pace-setting Yankees and the Twins were rained out at Minnesota.

Koufax gunning for his 10th of the year, retired the first 18 Phils in order as the Dodgers built a 5-0 cushion. But Tony Taylor nicked Koufax for a leadoff double in the seventh and eventually scored on Tony Gonzalez's sacrifice fly for the first run off the star lefty in 34 innings. Doubles by Don Hoak and Earl Averill gave the Phils another run in the eighth.

The Dodgers got their five runs and 12 hits off loser Art Mahafey and Chris Short, with Wally Moon socking a homer and Jim Gilliam two doubles.

Callison walloped two homers and two singles in the second game, which the Phillies wrapped up with three runs in the first off Nick Willhite and four more in the third against Ed Roebuck. Dallas Green went the distance for Philadelphia.

McCovey, who has totaled 14 homers during his 21-game hitting string, connected in the top of the ninth in the opener at Pittsburgh against Don Cardwell. Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda also homered for the Giants as they ended the Pirates' winning streak at five.

McCovey sent San Francisco off winging in the second game with a first-inning homer, and tied it at 2-2 with a run-scoring single in the third. But the Pirates got the clincher in the fifth on Bill Virdon's triple and Roberto Clemente's single. Don Schwall was the winning pitcher, with Al McBean again providing strong relief, and Jack Sanford lost his fifth in a row.

Boh Buhl of the Cubs checked the Braves without a hit until Hank Aaron doubled with two away in the seventh inning at Chicago. He gave way to the heat and humidity in the eighth, and Don Elston, Dick Lemay and Lindy McDaniel limited Milwaukee to one hit the rest of the way.

EVIDENCE—The camera proves that Willie Kirkland of the Indians was definitely out as he tried to steal second at Cleveland Stadium. The ball is reaching the glove of New York Yankee second baseman Bobby Richardson as the outfielder is still flying toward the bag. Tony Kubek backs up the play.
